COLLEGE VIEW CHURCH
unless otherwise noted

“The Lord will guide you always; He will satisfy your needs in a sun-scorched land and will strengthen your frame. You will be like a well-watered garden, like a spring whose waters never fail.”

Isaiah 58:11 (NIV)

CLASS OF 2020 THEME TEXT

May 2020

Dear Graduate:

Today is your day! You have been in our thoughts and prayers during this unprecedented and challenging year. You have taken your place as a future leader in your workplace, your church, and your community. Union College congratulates you as you press on toward fulfilling your dreams. We know you will do well, will honor your alma mater and will distinguish yourself further through career achievements and the joys of service. You are, after all, a Unionite!

The message of your class theme text says, "The Lord will guide you always; He will satisfy your needs in a sun-scorched land and will strengthen your frame. You will be like a well-watered garden, like a spring whose waters never fail," Isaiah 58:11. What a wonderful promise! God will guide you along your journey, and He will not fail you. Our great heavenly Father has a divine plan, a calling, just for you. How exciting is that!

It is my desire and prayer that you will continue to develop a closer relationship with God, allowing Him to work in and through you to fulfill those plans and that future that He has made especially for you. My hope is that you will continue to demonstrate great resilience as you forge boldly forward through challenges.

Our prayers and goodwill go with you, and we ask for your continued prayers on behalf of Union College. May the Lord bless and keep you!

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in black ink that reads "Vinita Sauder". The signature is written in a cursive style and is positioned above a light gray rectangular box.

THE UNION COLLEGE CLOCK TOWER is a Lincoln landmark and an integral part of campus life. Around the 100-foot structure volunteers meet to begin Project Impact, the annual day of community service. Its chimes remind listeners to stop for a moment of contemplation and prayer. Pizzas are consumed here, classes are taught, first kisses shared, engagements sealed. The towering structure also symbolizes the care and support students have received from one another, from faculty, staff, College View Seventh-day Adventist Church, and the Lincoln community. Above all, it affirms the Holy Trinity lifting up each person on this campus.

RICHARD CARLSON, PHD

Rich Carlson is currently the Chaplain and Vice President for Spiritual Life at Union College. He has served this school in his current role, as well as Associate Professor of Religion and Psychology, for 40 years and will be retiring this summer. Prior to his time at Union, he taught and was Chaplain at Maplewood Academy and Dakota Adventist Academy for eight years. He earned his Bachelor's degree from Union College, his Master's degree from Andrews University and his PhD from the University of Nebraska–Lincoln.

He has been married to Kenna Lee for 48 years and they have three grown sons, three daughters-in-law, and eight grandchildren. They are all graduates of Union College except the grandchildren who are almost of age and ready to join the Union family. Rich enjoys spending time with his family, taking his grandchildren with him on many international trips, and officiating ice hockey. His greatest love, however, is teaching and sharing Jesus through modeling, mentoring, and mobilizing students to find their calling by loving and serving Jesus more than anything else in this world.

MARK ROBISON, PHD

Mark Robison has taught writing, literature, drama, and communication courses at Union College for 25 years. Before that he taught English for a dozen years at Columbia Adventist Academy in Battle Ground, Washington. Robison began his teaching career in Placerville, California in 1977 where he taught English and History courses while managing a 7th and 8th grade homeroom for seven years at El Dorado Junior Academy.

He graduated from Walla Walla College in 1977 with a degree in journalism. In 1993 he was awarded a Master of Liberal Arts from St. John's College in Santa Fe, New Mexico. He earned his PhD in English at the University of Nebraska–Lincoln, in 2008, writing a dissertation that analyzes how Willa Cather's writing career intersects with the recreation movement in the United States during the late 19th and early 20th Centuries.

Married since 1976, Mark and his beloved spouse, Linda, enjoy biking on the many trails around Lincoln and backpacking in the Wind River mountain range of Wyoming. Their daughter and son both graduated from Union College; Jessica with a degree in English and Eric with a degree in Music Performance.

ACADEMIC REGALIA

The pageantry and costume of the college commencement is a part of the traditional setting of higher education extending back into the late Middle Ages. Beginning as everyday wear for students and faculty, today's academic regalia is symbolic of academic achievement and distinction. Academic life began in the church and then in the guilds. The teaching guild was the Guild of the Masters of Arts, where the Bachelor was the apprentice of the Master and the dress was the outward sign of privilege and responsibility. Rather early colleges and universities set rules to preserve the dignity and meaning of academic dress. Most American universities have adopted a uniform code for the costumes, drafted and occasionally revised by the American Council on Education.

GOWN The usual color of the gown is black. The doctor's gown is trimmed with a wide velvet band on either side at the front and with three velvet bars across the upper portion of the sleeve. Gowns of the bachelor or master are untrimmed.

HOOD The hood, which passes around the neck and extends down the back, is the most distinctive item of the costume. It is lined with the official colors of the college conferring the degree; these colors appear where the hood turns outward at the center back. The bands of velvet on the center turnback indicate the branch of learning. The width of the band and the length of the hood are greater for master's degrees.

CAP The mortarboard or beret is worn with all degrees. The color of the tassel denotes the discipline. Gold tassels indicate the doctor's degree.

COLOR Colors associated with the branches of learning are exhibited either on the tassels of the graduates or on the hoods of the faculty as indicated above. Gold on the student hood indicates a Bachelor of Science; white indicates a Bachelor of Arts. Black and red are Union College's school colors.

Commerce and Business Education	Drab Light Blue	Physical Education Science	Sage Green Golden Yellow
Humanities and Social Science	White	Social Work	Citron
International Rescue & Relief	Burnt Orange	Theology	Scarlet
Journalism	Crimson	Associate Degree	Black
Music	Pink
Nursing & Health Science	Apricot

ACADEMIC RECOGNITION

Honor cords designate high achieving students. Union College awards degrees with academic recognition on the basis of minimum cumulative grade-point average attained prior to the start of the final semester as follows:

Summa Cum Laude, 3.90—Gold

Magna Cum Laude, 3.75—Silver

Cum Laude, 3.50—White

U N I O N S C H O L A R S

In addition to meeting standard degree requirements and maintaining at least a 3.33 GPA, Union Scholars have completed a special curriculum of honors courses and a research thesis. Red cords on the academic regalia designate Union Scholars. The titles of their projects are listed below.
